J.D. CLUSTERS

J. D. courses are divided into general topical categories called course clusters. Frequently, a course may be associated with one or more course clusters.

To learn more about a J.D. course cluster, please choose from the list on the left. For each course cluster, you will find an essay describing the cluster and a list of courses and faculty related to the cluster.