U.S. HEALTH LAW CERTIFICATE

The U.S. Health Law Certificate is designed to provide students with comprehensive knowledge of health care law and regulation in the U.S., including public health programs and regulations, health care access and financing, the private insurance market, and Medicaid. Our renowned full-time faculty members teach a variety of courses in U.S. health law and provide advice on the development of the curriculum. Our adjunct faculty, all leading domestic health law and policy practitioners, draw on their wealth of experience to equip our students with the skills to practice in this growing and changing field.

*This certificate may be completed as a stand-alone program or as part of a Georgetown Law LL.M. program, including the National and Global Health Law LL.M (https://curriculum.law.georgetown.edu/llm/llm-llm-programs/llm-global-health-law).
